Outline

The Kyoto Costume Institute (KCI) organized

Fashion in Colors: VIKTOR&ROLF&KCI at the National Museum of Modern Art, Kyoto in 2004.

Focusing on the elements of color in clothing from the 17th century to the present moment, this exhibition was arranged in five sections—Black, Multicolor, Blue, Red & Yellow, and White—to produce a clearer picture of the characteristics of each piece of clothing, and to bring into relief the messages conveyed so strongly by color. Guest curators for Fashion in Colors were Viktor & Rolf, the design duo known for producing collections that shake the boundaries between art and fashion. This exhibition fully realizes the inherent attractiveness, fun, and strength of color in clothing.

This DVD includes the exhibition shots, text and image data of all exhibited works, an interview with VIKTOR&ROLF, and so on.
